CLOSE OF THE SESSION AT CLEMSON.

New Professors Elected—Room for 150 More Students Next Year.

Clemson College, June 20 .- The las chapel assembly was held this morning. Dr. Hartzog reviewed the year's work stating that it had been marked by revolution in the internal workings o the college for the better-a revolution brought about by the good sense of the student body. The unanimous verdict is that the examination papers are the best that have ever been handed in while the failures have been fewer and less disastrous. In a most appropriate speech President Hartzog thanked the students for their loyalty and gave then some wholesome advice. The addition to the barracks make room for 150 more boys. This increase in the number of students necessitated an increase in the teaching force, and the trustees last night elected the following additional teachers: Mr. S. W.

Reeves, of Marion, assistant professor of mathematics; Mr. Arthur B. Bryan, of Barnwell, tutor in English; Mr. J. E.
What are you going to try to do?
That is a subject broad enough. I am going to put some literary in it, but I want to talk common senso.
What are you? We all soon learn the beginning of life; we see it to various Hunter, of Newberry, tutor; Mr. Mark Bradley, of Abbeville, tutor,

Mr. Reeves is a graduate of the Citadel. of the University of North Carolina and of Cornell. He has been teaching in Michigan and is said to be one of the brightest mathematicians of the South,

Mr. Bryan is a graduate of Clemson and of Peabody Normal. He took special work in English at the latter place and is prepared for his work here. Mr. Hunter is another Clemson graduate who made a fine record while here, and has kept up the same since he left. Mr. Bradley is a graduate of Erskine College. He was a bright student while in college and has been a successful teacher since graduation. Everybody is delighted at the selection made by the trustees, and these new professors will find a warm welcome awaiting them.

We are sorry to lose two of our men to be different from the man who dropped out from the freshman class. It is well for me to hold up the glass before you and let you see your selves as others see you. You must investigate, solidify and harden the teacher since graduation. Everybody is

He will have under his direction quite a number of men, who will inspect machinery and make reports to him, then he passes on the advisability of taking the risk. Prof. Boehm is essentially qualified for this important work and the company is to be congratulated on securing his services. Quite a number of Clemson graduates are at the various universities of the country taking post graduate work. Dr. Hartzog advised the graduating class this morning to continue their studies elsewhere if possible. It speaks well for the college that so many of its graduates have distilled in them a desire for more knowledge.

Work closes to day and many a sigh of relief will be drawn to-night by teachers and students. Some will be sad, too. because there are always a few unfortunates who fall short of the goal. The majority of those who fail here usually have grit enough to take the work over The whole year's work has been charac terized by more than ordinary determi nation on the part of students as well as of teachers. The vacation this year is a well earned one, and it is earnestly hoped that it may be enjoyed by every one.

Prof. W. M. Riggs has been made head of the Mechanical Department at Clemson. This is one of the most important positions here. The promotion is a deserved recognition of Prof. Riggs's ability, which is well known by all who know him and especially by the board of trustees. He has been in the service of the college for a number of years. He was not an applicant for the position and his election is therefore all the more complimentary. The department unde his direction will be wisely managed, for he is thoroughly in love with his work He is a man of much personal magne tism and good common sense in addi tion to his excellent training.

The Senator was present last night and was in one of his happiest moods. Some of the drowned are among the most prominent citizens of the coal fields.

The Pocahontas coal field is located in a basin with high mountain ranges or either side. Elkhorn creek flows through the center of the basin, which ranges from one-fourth to one mile in width From Ennis, W. Va., to Vivian Yard, W. Va., a distance of ten miles, miners' pabins, coal company commissaries and coke plants line this basin. Elkhorn creek, being fed by numerous small treams coming from the mountain five years. At Keystone the water began to rise at o'clock Sunday morning, and by 11 o'clock the flood had spent its fury and at least two-thirds of the little city had een washed away or demolished.

It is known that sixteen residents of the north side lost their lives, and at least fifty of those living on the south or ower side were drowned. At Burke, a suburb of Keystone, a number are missing and eight are reported dead. It is now certain that the total list of the dead from one end of the Elkhorn valley to the other will reach two nundred. Hundreds are missing, having taken refuge in the mountains to escape the fury of the flood.

At least three hundred mine mules vere drowned, and as many as twentyfive could be seen swimming about in the flood and making an unusual fight for life. But little damage is done to mine property, as the drift mouths were high up the mountain sides. Several mpossible to ascertain the extent of the

On the North Fork branch of the Norfolk and Western, which is five and one half miles long, there was no loss of life as far as known, but hundreds were rendered homeless and are now camping in the mountains. The damage to property on this branch is very heavy, only one of the ten collieries located on it escaping, it being located at the head of the stream. In the Elkhorn valley it is estimated that the loss to the railroad and coal interests will reach into millions. Out of welve miles of main double track only ne mile remains, and all the bridges are gone. Some of them were of the heaviest masonry and iron, but they could not resist the force of the flood. The Cozer Company, one of the largest in operation, lost a thousand horse-power electric plant, many buildings and coke ovens. Their loss is said to be $50,000. The Houston Company is damaged some $20,000. The Tierney interest, consisting of four collieries, will lose $75,000. PASSENGERS TAKEN THROUGH WINDOWS. At Landgraf, the beautiful home of General Manager Ord, is reported gone, but his family is said to be safe. Passenger train No. 4, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, reached Vivian Yard, the western terminus of the coal field, about 8.30 a. m., met the flood and was unable to proceed farther. The waters reached such a depth that the coaches had to be abandoned, the passengers being rescued by means of ropes strung from the windows of coaches to the tops of remaining coke ovens some distance away. Between Elkhorn and Vivian Yard, a distance of ten miles, 100 cars are said to be washed away from the racks and many of them carried down the streams.

A rough estimate places the number of bridges washed away between Bluefield and Vivian Yard, a distance of captured this morning and shot to death. twenty-eight miles, at from fifteen to twenty, and from present indications it will be impossible to get trains through to Vivian and points west of there under week or ten days. This will render it impossible to get relief into the stricken district, and with those who escaped with their lives, homeless and without food, indescribable suffering is inevitable. HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE. Owing to the fact that the telegraph lines were prostrated by the storm the Norfolk and Western officials detailed messengers by foot to cover the territory s best they could. They returned in a short time with reports of the terrible destruction which had been done in their respective territory. One of these messengers, in walking over the devastated district, came back and reported having seen thirty-eight dead bodies. There are supposed to be many who will never be accounted for. The loss of life will probably reach 500 or 600, and possibly this number will be swelled when fuller details are obtainable.

The Norfolk and Western Railroad officials in this city admit that at least 200 lives have been lost, Keystone wiped out and millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed.

The State Democratic Executive Com mittee is composed of forty-one men including Senator Tillman, and is one of the fairest and squarest bodies of men l have ever had the pleasure of being connected with. I do not believe there is a man on the committee who would be unfair to any Democrat in the State in any manner, and each one of them wil do the utmost to do absolute justice to overy Democrat. Personally I have frequently said I was absolutely opposed to ruling Senator McLaurin out of the Democratic party and primary, and that being my position I do not see how I could be in any way held responsible for any effort or suggestion to rule Senator McLaurin out of the primary. I do not, however, speak for the committee, but, parenthetically, I may remark, without any breach of coulidence, that Senator Tillman also is now opposed to ruling Senator McLaurin out of the primary, as he as well as I think the people can at all times be trusted and can take care of times be trusted and can take care of themselves and their interests. All doctors have tried to cure Catarri by the use of powders, acid gases, inhal-ers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the nucous membranes, causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while, pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner, who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which, when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts.
